

Cases in Which Expert has Testified
Rosalie A. Skefich

CONFIDENTIAL

Expert for Defendant

- Served as EPCRA TRI environmental compliance expert for explosives manufacturing company defendant. Expressed opinions as to whether the federal law applies to the company operations. Prepared Expert Report in accordance with Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Section V, Rule 26. (United States of America ex rel Charles K. Holder vs. Special Devices, Inc., Ventura County, 2003)
- Identified regulatory framework applicable to the transportation of a partially-filled propane cylinder to a scrap metal recycling facility. Expressed opinions on whether the cylinder was a hazardous waste and identified exemptions in the hazardous materials transportation regulations. (Luis B. Chavez, et al. vs. Texiera Farms, Inc., Case No. SM 109525, Santa Barbara County, 2000)

Expert for Plaintiff

- Identified industry standards and protocol for conducting environmental due diligence for a commercial property ownership transaction that involved a leaking underground storage tank site on the adjacent parcel (Nader Mirzai vs. West Village Plaza Partners, Case No. 197953, County of Santa Barbara, 1996)
- Researched industry standards for fumigants and other pesticide applications. Researched pesticide-specific health hazards. (Cyr Family vs. Dow Elanco; Zoecon; Whitmire; Barricade Pest Control, William Meyer, et al., Case No. 220634, Santa Barbara County, 1999)
- Identified environmental operational and administrative requirements and government agency jurisdiction and obligations for regulating for a green waste facility that sustained a fire possibly affecting fire-fighters health. (Not provided, County of Ventura Class Action Lawsuit, 2000)